SIGA - BUSINESS OF THE YEAR
"SASK BUSINESS MAGAZINE"

Saskatoon, SK - Saskatchewan Indian Gaming Authority (SIGA) is pleased to announce it has been selected Sask Business Magazine's "Business of the Year" becoming the youngest company to earn the recognition. SIGA joins an elite group of previous winners including Regina steelmaker IPSCO and Schulte Industries of Englefeld, Saskatchewan.

"This recognition is humbling," said Zane Hansen, SIGA President and CEO. "As a First Nations owned and operated business, we have worked extremely hard as an organization to become a top tier business."

SIGA operates casinos in Prince Albert (Northern Lights Casino), North Battleford (Gold Eagle Casino), Yorkton (Painted Hand Casino), Whitecap Dakota First Nation (Dakota Dunes Casino) and on the White Bear First Nation (Bear Claw Casino).

"Our success is clearly built on the loyalty of our customers and the hospitality of our employees. We appreciate everything they have done for our organization," added Hansen. "SIGA is an exceptionally well run company, adhering to high standards in all its practices. This recognition is a testament to the hard work at all levels of our company."

Sask Business is the province's premier source for positive business news regarding Saskatchewan's industry sectors and overall economy. Sask Business is the longest-running business publication in Saskatchewan.
